ENLISTMENT IS ACTIVE

MANY YOUNG MEN ARE RUSHING TO JOIN COLORS UNDER NEW TENNESSEE REGIMENT.

Adjt.-Gen. Buckner and Major Daughtry Expect Maximum Enlistment For Fourth Tennessee—Accepting Only Highest Record.

Jackson.—Adjt.-Gen. A. G. Buckner is the busiest man in the state at the present time. The job of raising a regiment is quite a proposition and the adjutant-general is the one man upon whom most of the work falls.

One of the luckiest things in the world for the adjutant-general is the fact that he has one of the most capable assistants that can be found anywhere. Maj. C. L. Daughtry has been untiring in his efforts in behalf of the newest Tennessee regiment, and he has worked early and late. The amount of mail and telegrams that have been received is voluminous and it has taken herculean efforts on the part of Gen. Buckner and Maj. Daughtry to prevent a congestion.

So eager are men throughout the state to get into the new Fourth infantry that they have not waited to be enlisted at their home towns where companies are being raised, but have wired or written Gen. Buckner or Maj. Daughtry offering their services and asking to be formally accepted for service.

Reports from over Tennessee are to the effect that the Fourth Tennessee will be raised without the least bit of difficulty. The recruits have been so numerous in many places in the short length of time since the regiment was started that the highest expectations of the officers have been far exceeded. And by this large scramble in the effort to get into the organization, the numbers have been so great that the officers have been forced to adopt a process of selection, thus assuring the very highest personnel possible in all organizations.

One of the most prominent military men in the state and one who has been active in national guard affairs for many years declared that in all his connection with the national guard he had never seen the equal of the men in the new regiment as regards the high type of soldiers being selected.

Jamaica Ginger Causes Drunkenness.
Harry L. Eskew, state food and drug inspector, announces that he is on the warpath against dispensers of Jamaica ginger in Tennessee. He has found that this fiery concoction is being sold by many drug stores for hilarious effects, and that it is taking the place of whiskey with many.

Half of the cases of drunkenness registered at Nashville police station have been found due to the use of Jamaica ginger, and Mr. Eskew says he will enforce the law against the sale of this as well as other intoxicants.

Myer Selects County Helpers.
Fuel Administrator Myer has named the following county administrators: John Tomey, Scott county, Helenwood; J. S. Johnson, Dickson county, Dickson; J. B. Walker, Hickman county, Centerville; Geo. C. Taylor, Greene county, Greenville; George Goodrich, Lincoln county, Fayetteville; J. B. Swafford, Rhea county, Dayton.

Hoosier Troops Are Coming.
Arrival of 1,000 enlisted men, 60 officers, 450 animals, 40 trucks and wagons and 48 ambulances of the medical training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., about Dec. 1, will mark the opening of the second medical camp at Camp Warden McLean. The unit is making the trip overland.

Moore Becomes Law Examiner.
Robert I. Moore has been appointed a member of the state board of law examiners in place of J. L. McTea, who has resigned. The appointment was made by the supreme court.

Manufacturers Pledge Support.
Patriotic cooperation with the government in all its war aims was the keynote of the annual convention of the Tennessee Manufacturers' association, held at Nashville. President John Edgerton of Lebanon, in his annual address, urged every manufacturer to adapt his machinery to the making of some article included in the nation's military program. He urged, above everything else, the strictest conservation of coal, that industry and the government's own coal consuming plants shall not suffer.
